On the surface, Kailah Carter is a loyal and trusted friend, hardworking financial consultant, and devoted daughter. At least that's what her best friend Mona Richards always thought. That is until she discovers Kaliah's been sleeping with her man. Kailah believes Keith Terrence to be her Prince Charming. His smooth talk and fat bank account sweeps Kailah off her designer heels, and she must decide whether to choose the love of her best homegirl, , or the love of her new man. Who will win this catfight, and will Keith survive being caught in the middle?
