Product Description

Borrowing nature to create art

* Stunning color photographs of "installations"

* Thoughtful, thought-provoking commentary

Mountains, valleys, weather, and open spaces have become the foundations of new art, outside the boundaries of museums and art galleries. With glowing color photographs and thoughtful, thought-provoking commentary by an internationally renowned authority on art, architecture, and urban planning, Landscape Art reveals how nature and art blend to take on an exciting and sometimes spiritual new identity.
