All unhappy homes are alike in one way: They lack adequate storage. Ideas: Storage presents hundreds of ideas for solving the storage problem, exploring the many different ways in which possessions can be stored. From clothing to collections, from bongos to bicycles, our lives are filled with cherished items of every size and shape. In these remarkable interior designs, the storage doesn't just contain things—it even helps to shape the character of a home and lend a feeling of space and hospitality. We all deserve a happy home, and so do the things we own.
