Cookie-cutter houses are so over. Today's home buyers want to make a mark on their surroundings--to not only occupy a space, but to imbue it with their own unique personalities. "Home Interiors" presents a dynamic and eclectic collection of homes, in styles ranging from minimalist to cozy, from intimate to free-flowing. Each project is shown in detail, with dozens of full-color photographs and the architect's own commentary, sketches, and floor plans. Architects, designers, and anyone planning a home today--or just dreaming about one--need "Home Interiors."
