Targeted especially for lovers of history, architecture, or the glory days gone-by, this acclaimed series takes a detailed look at the architectural beauty and majesty of historic cities and geographic areas of the South. Much of the charm of these areas comes from the striking architecture that has survived earthquakes, hurricanes, fires, wars, and "progress". In his final work, critically acclaimed photographer Paul Malone visits forty-three picturesque landmarks of New Orleans' famed Garden District to capture the history, design, and grandeur of these stately mansions with his brilliant full-color photographs. Lee Malone details the architectural styles, histories, and interior designs to make this book a beautiful addition to the Majesty Architecture series.
