The Turkic Muslims from Central Asia known as the Uighur have long faced social and economic disadvantages in China due to their minority status. Under the Heel of the Dragon: Islam, Racism, Crime, and the Uighur in China offers a unique insight into current conflicts resulting from the rise of Islamic fundamentalism and the Chinese government's oppression of religious minorities that have heightened the degree of polarization between the Uighur and the dominant Chinese ethnic group, the Han.

Author Blaine Kaltman's study is based on in-depth interviews that he conducted in China without either the aid of an interpreter or the knowledge of the Chinese government. These riveting conversations expose the thoughts of a wide socioeconomic spectrum of Han and Uighur, revealing their mutual prejudices. The Uighurs believe that the Han discriminate against them in almost every aspect of their lives, and this perception of racism motivates the Uighurs' own prejudice against the Han.

Kaltman reports that Uighur criminal activity (unlike that of other minorities, which predominantly occurs within their own communities) is directed against their perceived oppressors, the Han Chinese. Under the Heel of the Dragon offers a unique insight into a misunderstood world and a detailed explanation of the cultural perceptions that drive these misconceptions.

作者介绍:

Blaine Kaltman, who is fluent in Mandarin Chinese and spent five years in China, holds an MS in criminal justice from the University of Tennessee and a PhD in sociology from the University of Queensland. He traveled extensively throughout China and wrote for That's Shanghai.

之前那个被豆瓣删了

推行少数民族语言他们说这是不让他们好好学汉语将他们边缘化出主流社会，鼓励他们多学汉语他们又说是要把他们同化种族灭绝。

材料很好，分析却是0分，那么多可切入的点一个没谈。综合一下给个三星吧，但建议关心维族汉族问题的人看看。

又一次记录了两个民族的傲慢与偏见。材料是好材料，可这书写得也太粗糙，简直就是把field notes整理一下就出版了，完全没有深入的讨论。
