Who will play with bunny? He tries to hop with frogs--but just plops! He tries to bite bark with the beavers--but the bark doesn't taste right! He can't reach the birds in their nest or swim with the fish in the pond. The cow is too busy, and the kitten won't share. "It was becoming a lonely day. Doesn't anybody want to play?" Finally the playful bunny meets a puppy and a boy, and all three play the kinds of games a bunny can play--rolling, hide-and-seeK, digging, and nose-touching. A delightful story about friendship and acceptance in an exciting new shaped hardcover format!
