Professor Flugel is determined to keep Gray Squirrel from eating from his birdfeeder.

But Gray Squirrel is just as determined to have breakfast at Professor Flugel's expense. When a super-soaker water gun, an alligator-filled moat, and an un-climbable metal pole fail to deter the pesky rodent, Professor Flugel has his best idea yet—the invites Gray Squirrel inside for tea and toast, and the two watch the birds together. Filled with zany illustrations of Gray squirrel in a raincoat, hot air balloon, and full scuba gear, this off-beat tale is sure to make young readers chuckle.
