Look at the close-up photograph. Read the fascinating facts. Then, Name That Animal! This engaging nature series uses a quiz-Like, question-and-answer format to introduce young readers to some of the world's most interesting and colorful birds, mammals, and reptiles. Each fact-packed volume's vivid animal portraits will intrigue readers and non-readers alike, inviting them to a fun-filled guessing game. Porcupine, rhinoceros, sage grouse, or hippopotamus? Which animal's bottom gets scratches on it from rubbing against tree trunks and termite mounds? Look at the pictures and read the clues. Then try to guess the names of seven of the world's most interesting birds and mammals by looking at their bottoms.
