Once upon a time there were two rabbit holes. One was empty, the other was crammed full of bunnies (five to be precise). One day, Chubby said, "There are too many bunnies in this hole." So one by one, they each made their way across to the other rabbit hole until, lo and behold, there are too many bunnies... This ingenious yet simple novelty with die cut rabbit holes will charm young readers. And Matt Novak's sensationally silly artwork will make them laugh out loud.
