A long-ago series of brainwashing and unorthodox psychiatric experiments are at the center of a conspiracy that eventually involves the CIA, FBI, mafia, and Montreal police force in this thrilling mystery. When bodies start turning up in an unexplained series of murders, Kellen O'Reilly--Montreal native and one-time participant in the psychiatric experiments in question--begins having flashbacks that may lead him to the identity of the murderer. With the help of the dynamic and sexy Sarah Paradis--the trial counsel in a class action lawsuit filed by victims of the experiments--Kellen must discover why he and others were brainwashed before he himself turns up as another corpse.
