"Well-researched, well-written and greatly appreciated homespun advice flows from this loving heart of a grandfather on every page." --Woodrow Kroll, President, Back To The Bible From passing on the family history and imparting spiritual wisdom to sharing special times and fun activities, "The Gift of Grandparenting" encourages grandparents to take an active role in creating strong spiritual and emotional family ties. Whether the grandchildren live around the corner or around the country, this book gives every grandparent new ways to enjoy the marvelous gift of grandparenting. "There is no greater joy or higher privilege than to be a grandparent. Read this wonderful book to laugh, weep, and plan to be a greater grandparent than ever. I commend it fully."
--Adrian Rogers, Senior Pastor, Bellevue Baptist Church "Every grandparent and grandparent-to-be needs to read this book Grandparents play a significant role in their grandchildren's lives." --Beverly LaHaye, Chairman, Concerned Women for America "Filled with tips, tidbits, and insight for a modern world, Eric Wiggin's The Gift of Grandparenting should be on every family bookshelf." --Angela Hunt, Novelist "If you have found yourself even less prepared for the uniqueness of this trip than you were for your "first round" of kids, you'll feel with us how greatly rewarding it is to have help like Eric Wiggin offers us here." --Jack W. Hayford, Founding Pastor, The Church On The Way, Van Nuys, CA "In these days of so much divorce and single parenting, grandparents may be the only touch of listening love some children seem to have. This book will give you the tools to be the best grandparent you can be." --Florence Littauer, Speaker and Author "(Personality Plus, Silver Boxes)" "This splendid work, written from the viewpoint of a dedicated Christian, blends principle and precept with practical experience. Heartily recommended for grandparents of all ages and all persuasions."
--D. James Kennedy, Ph.D., Senior Minister, Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church "As the grandparents of 13 very lively grandkids, we know we have much to learn. This comprehensive book will be most helpful to us and to countless others who, like us, are learning grandparenting by the seat of their pants " --Stuart and Jill Briscoe, Ministers-at-Large, Elmbrook Church, Brookfield, WI
