Published just months before his suicide in 1950, this novel won Italy's prestigious Strega Prize and has gone on to become one of CESARE PAVESE's (1908-1950) most popular novels and was filmed by Michelangelo Antonioni. A successful couturier returns to Turin, the city in which she grew up, at the end of WWII. Opening a salon of her own leads her into a nihilistic circle of young hedonists, including the charismatic Rosetta, whose tragic death forms the novel's climax. But Turin itself is at the heart of the novel, its pervading melancholy deftly rendered by a master craftsman. Other available Peter Owen Modern Classics by Pavese: "The Moon and the Bonfire and The Devil in the Hills.
