Devoted to the adventures of Glous'gap, embodiment of the Great Spirit, the sixteen stories in On the Trail of Elder Brother have been told by many Algonquin tribes -- among them the Micmac of Maine, Quebec, and the Maritime Provinces -- and are retold here in traditional Micmac versions by two Micmac authors. With their pipe-smoking whales and irascible porcupines, the stories are wondrous and magical; they are also wise, as Glous'gap teaches his people what it means to be fully human in a fragile world.
