The first and only African-American cookbook for people with diabetes Although there are many cookbooks for people with diabetes, there is only one for people interested in African-American cooking. "The New Soul Food Cookbook for People with Diabetes" enters a new edition with great-tasting and offers you flavorful recipes such as barbecue pulled pork, fried okra, orange sweet potatoes, shrimp jambalaya and more. All of the Cajun, Creole, and down-home favorites are here for you--and now in healthier versions than ever before Each recipe adheres to the new nutrition guidelines of the American Diabetes Association and is guaranteed to be low in saturated fat.
