A fun Veggie sticker book about how God created the world--for ages 4-8 Bob the Tomato and Larry the Cucumber invite kids to join them as they tell the story about the seven days of God's creation. They start at the beginning, when everything is dark. Then there's a big burst of light--and Bob and Larry appear in sunglasses Kids will laugh their way through the story as they place the enclosed stickers in the matching outline on each page. Kids will enjoy watching the pictures grow as each day of creation passes by. The end of the book suggests additional fun activities for using the extra stickers, like making a days-of-the-week calendar with the numbers one through seven, or using picture stickers to create refrigerator magnets. Over one hundred colorful stickers are included.
