Full of things guys need to know. Who says? Guys do. The author surveyed over 500 boys ages 9-13 about what it's like to grow up today. The six sections in this book are based on the topics they brought up. In a world of mixed messages on what it means to be male, this is just the help boys are looking for. Graphic-novel-style illustrations, quotes from real boys, results from genuine surveys, inspiring stories, and facts to keep boys interested and give them the info and advice they're looking for. From family life to fitting in, 100 Things is divided into six major sections: You; Body and Mind; Family; School; Relationships; Future
