Being the only girl in a rock band sounds great, but lately Kiki feels like the only guys she comes into contact with are loser groupies and her band mates who don't seem to even realize she's a girl. With her cool retro clothes and cute looks, there's no reason for Kiki not to have a boyfriend so she decides it's time to go Boy Shopping. But who will she pick? Lyman, a classical pianist and awesome DJ? Joshua, a cute Asian American jock? Jacob, cryptic and mysterious? Michael, who's smart, funny, and seriously sexy? And then there's Mark, the bassist in Kiki's band, who has suddenly started to see her in a whole new light...and it's all up to the reader to decide...
