This work is suitable for ages 4-8. Young Billy Bray is certain that his father's lighthouse is haunted. On every stormy night, Billy hears the lighthouse calling, "Whyyyy meeeeeeeee?" When Billy's father is away overnight and Billy's mom sprains her ankle, it's up to the young boy to keep the light burning. Billy is so frightened to climb the dark stairs at night that only God can help him. The boy prays for courage and, with God's help, Billy overcomes his fears. Young children learn that they, too, can overcome their fears with God's help.
