Eric Carle well-known creator of many beloved picture books for small readers and listeners, including such classics as "Papa, Please Get the Moon for Me, The Tiny Seed, Rooster's Off to See the World, A House for Hermit Crab, " and "The Very Hungry Caterpillar." He is especially celebrated for his unique ability to combine learning with pleasure. Children delight in the distinctive beauty of his illustrations -- richly layered collages in glowing colors -- and they love his entertaining stories, which invite them to make their own discoveries in a natural, joyful way. Born in Syracuse, New York, Eric Carle received much of his education in Germany. He is a graduate of the Akademie der bildenden Künste in Stuttgart, where he learned about Goethe's color theory and complementary colors. But the chief inspiration for "Hello, Red Fox" came from his talks with young readers themselves, who were surprised and fascinated when he demonstrated for them -- just like in this book -- that all colors have opposites. Eric Carle has two grown children. He and his wife live in western Massachusetts.

真是感慨命运多舛啊，生存不仅要实力，也需要运气。小朋友应该还不理解这个吧，他只会看到THE TINY SEED越长越高越长越大最后成了一枝独秀，孩子的眼里永远只看到美好。

Eric again. Good book to analyzed the general knowledge of seeds. Pictures are so warm as all of his prior works. Fits to 4-6 yrs children.
