Nathan is four and off to preschool for a day full of changing feelings. He's angry, he's proud, he's cooperative--and he's all mixed up. His problems will be familiar to your children and you can help them learn how to describe Nathan's feelings--and their own--with the questions that appear on every page. The book includes "Survival Skills for Children in Childcare," which suggests how parents can help young children solve social challenges that require patience, flexibility and negotiation.
