This engaging, age-appropriate set is designed to meet the early childhood social studies curriculum, where students learn about themselves and their community and what makes their community similar to and different from communities across the United States. By taking a kid-friendly Who's Who approach to different kinds of communities, these books teach students about the people who work to make each community a success. There are many kinds of neighborhoods and many people who make up the neighborhood community. Students learn how people in the neighborhood interact and rely on one another. They also learn about the people who live outside the neighborhood but come into the community every day. Everyone has a part to play in the neighborhood
