When Mrs Winks leaves a freshly baked apple pie on the window ledge to cool, Piggley and his friends can't resist having a quick taste! But before they know it they've eaten the whole pie! What are they going to do? Knowing that his mother will be cross when she returns, Piggley decides that they will make a new pie. But with flour, sugar and eggs all over the floor, and Mrs Winks about to walk down the garden path, can Piggley and friends clean up the mess and get the new pie back on the window ledge before his mother discovers what's happened? Join Piggley and his friends as they learn about telling the truth.
