For~ years, the intrepid crew of the NSEA Protector valiantly entertained millions of television viewers with their voyages through space. Now the crew is on another adventure--bravely touring the sci-fi convention circuit and making guest appearances at two-bit computer stores. But their dull existence gets a quantum rocket boost when a group of aiiens-- believing the television episodes to be true "historical documents"--enlist the crew s help to save them from an evil alien empire. Now these washed-up TV actors find themselves deep in space, playing their roles as if their lives--and the lives of an entire alien race--depend on it!
