Here is a broad assortment of effective exercises, activities, and training aids that trainers and speakers can use to breathe new life into a wide range of presentations and training sessions. As in the two previous books in this successful series, each of the one-and two-page games in Still "More Games Trainers Play" has been screened, refined, and field-tested by training and development professionals. Most can be administered successfully in under thirty minutes and implemented at little or no cost. Easily adapted to fit any training situation and complete with follow-up questions designed to stimulate group discussion, here are: session icebreakers that seize a group's attention and stimulate active participation; games that require verbal response, physical movement, or intellectual activity to involve trainees more deeply; and, session closers to summarize and add zing to the end of a presentation.
