Benedict Wrensted, a remarkable photographer who worked in Pocatello, Idaho, from 1895 to 1912, greatly contributed to the visual legacy of the Northern Shoshone, Lemhi, and Bannock ("Sho-Ban") American Indian tribes. This beautifully designed volume, illustrated with 176 duotone photographs and 2 maps, reproduces a substantial number of Wrensted's photographs, along with a detailed description of each image, including the names of the subjects, their biographical data, and an ethnographic analysis of their Native attire.
