Gerald Lee Ratliff has done it again His latest book of monologs, Millennium Monologs, is a fresh collection of the new voices of the twenty-first century. Monologs are excerpted from The Last Yankee by Arthur Miller, Women Behind the Walls by Claire Braz-Valentine, Wasp by Steve Martin, Fires in the Mirror by Anna Deavere Smith, Happy Hour and Trophes by John Wooten, First Time by Ludmilla Bollow, Disturbed by Brad Boesen, Death Comes to Us All, Mary Agnes by C. Durang and many more. Also includes chapters on scene study and audition techniques. An excellent theatre sourcebook for teachers, students and professionals.
