"Readings on the Development of Children" is an excellent supplement in a development course, or as the primary text in graduate-level seminars. The new edition offers 37 readings, 21 new to this edition. The new articles were chosen to expose readers to recent research in rapidly changing areas of the field, such as brain development, early concepts, socioemotional development, and adolescent well-being. Each article is now followed by 10 thought-provoking review questions.
