What's a girl to do these days? If she's not worrying about her makeup or her dropdead outfit, it's the total lack of anyone hot to pick up at the local nightclub. Someone strong and silent, someone good looking ... someone who might not mind a bit of rough and tumble. And if he ends up being hung in the cellar with the other bloodcalves then that's too bad ... after all, a girl's gotta drink. Chelsea is a vampire, one of a nest of lesbian rave-bunny vampires, but when the nest picks her exboyfriend as their newest food source, she takes matters into her own hands ... A novella featuring sexy vampire girls, blood, horror, and enough catfights to sate even the most jaded of vampire lovers. A debut novella from an impressive new talent.
