This is a compelling exploration of the human psyche and of the specific techniques through which man can achieve the highest possible levels of consciousness. This exploration, which involves every aspect of human behaviour -- the instinctive, motor, emotional, and intellectual -- is, in the words of the author, 'the only game worth playing' -- The Master Game. This is the best-known consciousness classic by Robert S. de Ropp with over 200,000 copies sold. The book influenced two generations of readers on their spiritual path. Scientist de Ropp's compendium provides a fine introduction to the various practices of meditation, yoga, Fourth Way and other paths.
