As a society, we have veered so far from what matters in life, that we have little direction in finding out way back to the fundamentals. We might be content but we are not truly happy or fulfilled. For more than twenty years, Lisa Wysocky has been helping friends, clients, and audiences find fulfillment with her life-renewing principles. Now in Success Within, Lisa offers a fifty-two-week, life-renewing program-one year to a better, happier, more successful "you." Going beyond the "same old" advice, the author encourages a "three part" approach. First readers realize their limiting beliefs using exercises and interactive means. Exploring the power of helping other is next; and ultimately the power of helping ourselves.
