After losing his job and moving in with his mother, Vincent decides to join Tyriq and sell drugs to pay the bills. Spoon, a long-time friend, counsels him against dealing, but Vincent is lured by the prospect of quick cash. As he makes more and more easy money, Vincent becomes addicted to the life of expensive cars, jewellery, and fast women. He eventually gets caught up in a deadly gang war where the only way to survive is by killing others. If Vincent doesn't find a way out, the life of money and glamour may prove to be his downfall.
