Feminists have been concerned to identify sexist assumptions implicit in the major philosophical traditions, and it is this commitment to gender equity that has enabled them to make distinctive and important contributions to philosophy. Bringing together key articles in feminist ethics and social/political theory, this collection is structured to highlight salient concerns in contemporary feminist scholarship and the advances feminist philosophers have made. The seven main topics covered in this reader are: Constructions of Gender Theorizing Diversity: - Gender, Race, Class, and Sexual Orientation Figurations of Women/Woman as Figuration Subjectivity, Agency, and Feminist Critique Social Identity, Solidarity, and Political Engagement Care and Its Critics Women, Equality and Justice Contributors include Judith Butler, Luce Irigaray, Julia Kristeva, Genevieve Lloyd and Chantal Mouffe. Elizabeth Abel, Susan Babbitt, Annette Baier, Sandra Lee Bartky, Seyla Benhabib, Judith Butler, Cheshire Calhoun, Claudia Card, Nancy Chodorow, Kimberle Williams Crenshaw, Ann Ferguson, Nancy Fraser,
