All humans are nascent evaluators. Evaluation has been with us throughout history, and in its modern form has moved from the margins to the centres of organizations, agencies, educational institutions and corporate boardrooms. No longer a specialized, part-time activity, evaluation has become institutionalized, a common practice, and indeed an important commodity in political and social life. The Encyclopedia of Evaluation is an authoritative, first-of-its-kind who, what, where, why, and how of the field of evaluation. Covering professional practice as well as academia, this volume chronicles the development of the field - its history, key figures, theories, approaches and goals. From the leading publisher in the field of evaluation, this work is a must-have for all social science libraries, departments that offer courses in evaluation, and students and professional evaluators around the world. Topics covered include: * Concepts, Evaluation * Concepts, Methodological * Concepts, Philosophical * Concepts, Social Science * Ethics and Standards * Evaluation Approaches and Models * Evaluation around the World, Stories * Evaluation Planning * Evaluation Theory * Laws and Legislation * Organizations * People * Publications * Qualitative Methods * Quantitative Methods * Representation, Reporting, Communicating * Systems * Technology * Utilization The Encyclopedia of Evaluation is an essential reference work for all academic libraries.
