Nothing captures the magical quality of sports quite like a great ending to a great game. A walk-off home run, a desperation shot at the buzzer, and a Hail Mary with no time left all evoke similar emotions of elation and disbelief. And nowhere on the sports landscape have there been as many memorable endings as in Boston. The Red Sox, Patriots, Celtics, and Bruins have combined to provide more fantastic finishes--"both good and bad--"to last Boston fans a lifetime.
