For the first time in print is a full collection of some of the most enduring names in motorbikes talking about their machines, and the addiction to them. James Dean and his first bike, a 1947 CZ 122cc, then a Royal Enfield 500cc, a 1952 Indian Warrior TT, a Triumph T110 1955, and finally a Triumph TR5 Trophy; Burt Monroes' Indian Scout, with which he broke the world speed record; Elvis Presley's Harley-Davidson Electra Glide; Steve McQueen and his Indian Dresser, Indian Cruiser, Cleveland, 1964 Triumph

Tr6SC; Robert Pursig and his Honda CB77 Superhawk; Von Dutch and his Condor, Bud Elkins Triumph; T.E. Lawrence and his Brough Superior; Peter Fond and the American Dream from Easy Rider...a fascinating collection of machines and riders, told at first-hand or by eye-witnesses, with full histories of the machines, how they were used, and where they are now. This is the perfect book for any motorcycle enthusiast, full of history, racing, addiction to speed, and classic bikes!
