"Alt-rock diva, wise-cracking Blackman is not so much the poetic conscience of Gen X as its caustic avenger."--"Village Voice" "Blackman has a gift for turning nightmares into revelations."--"New York Times" "Blood Sugar "is a disturbing and evocative collection of new work and selected poems previously featured in Blackman's enormously popular chapbooks "Pretty, Sweet," and "Nice." Her work has appeared in five major anthologies including "Aloud: Voices from the Nuyorican Poets Cafe, Verses That Hurt," and "Poetry Nation." Blackman has performed on over twenty recordings, including collaborations with Golden Palominos, Recoil, KMFDM, and Scanner. She has also performed internationally and on NPR, MTV Radio, Spin Radio, and been featured on Salon.com. It is futile to resist her brutal accounts of obsession and beauty. So give in.
