Eleanor Lerman, whose last collection, "The Mystery of Meteors" (2001), was named by "Library Journal" as "Best of Poetry, 2001," returns with a dazzling, funny, and seriously mature new book. In "Our Post-Soviet History Unfolds," Lerman boldly wrests contemporary mysticism from a hard-knock New York Jewish consciousness. She's a solid witness to the 1960s, Cold War, Vietnam, sexual revolution, and drugs. However, in her favor, she's traveled through baby boomer irony, bought the T-shirt, and found her way back. Eleanor Lerman has been nominated for a National Book Award, received the inaugural Juniper Prize, and was the recipient of a fiction grant from the New York Foundation for the Arts. She is a lifelong New Yorker.
