Mr. Carver is heir to that most appealing American poetic voice, the lyricism of Theodore Roethke and James Wright.... this book is a treasure, one to return to. No one's brevity is as rich, as complete, as Raymond Carver's.

-- New York Times Book Review

"Carver's gifts as a storyteller shine through his poetry.... Sometimes a Carver poem also works as a short story, with all its elements--character, diction, place, event--compressed intact into the brevity of verse. And sometimes Carver delivers the goods in pure lyrical form, in words as full of yearning and sensibility as those of a very young man, but poems possessing the hard-won qualities of focus, stillness and irony only rewarded by experience."

-- Los Angeles Times

不应该仅仅拿极简主义来形容卡佛 还要添个冷峻主义

-----
"Hey, I'll live, and be happy, whatever I decide."

-----
sentences like noise like boiling water, so much like it.

-----
“Pain and humiliation you find occurring and reoccurring in my stories”
卡佛的写作是附在那层没有被捅破的纸上的写作

每一首都像是故事的冰山一角……后期有很多钓鱼（???）总的来说有很多……灰色的生活，简直要喘不上来气的生活，不禁对卡佛充满了兴趣……
