"The Haunted Realm" is a collection of startlingly atmospheric photographs of eerie sites throughout England, Scotland, Wales, and Ireland. Houses and mansions, castles and abbeys: internationally acclaimed photographer Simon Marsden has left no stone unturned in his quest to capture the ghostly nature of these strange places. Accompanying the photos is his fascinating commentary on the apparitions and spirit manifestations that have been reported at each particular site - as well as the strange, often macabre real-life events said to be the cause of the hauntings. Black-and-white photographs throughout.
