For twenty years, the journal Itinerario has published interviews with leading historians in the field of European Expansion. On the occasion of Itinerario's twentieth anniversary the editors have carefully selected twenty-seven of the best of these interviews. This unique collection offers the readers an insight into the history of European expansion throughout the world, and an understanding of historiographical developments over the past decades. The interviewees are renowned specialists of overseas history. Their combined expertise covers the globe, leaving no continent unexplored.
