The Riverbank Publications were the first really quality monographs written on what today is termed the science of cryptology. In these monographs, Friedman used scientific thought and methodology to describe the techniques and methods used in solving cryptographic systems. The Riverbank Publications in a sense "set the stage" for cryptology becoming a science. In Volume 1 there are four Riverbank publications: Publication No. 15: A Method of Reconstructing the Primary Alphabet From a Single One of the Series of Secondary Alphabets; Publication No. 16: Methods for The Solution of Running-Key Ciphers; Publication No. 17: An Introduction to Methods for the Solution of Ciphers; Publication No. 18 : Synoptic Tables for the Solution of Ciphers and A Bibliography of Cipher Literature.
