It is a comprehensive, portable volume that brings together all the relevant statutes, rules and practice directions that a practitioner or student is ever likely to need to refer to in family proceeding in Hong Kong. This book is aimed at family practitioners, students and teachers of family law in Hong Kong. A complete collection of statutory materials in a portable volume brings peace of mind and is an invaluable tool for both the professional in the courtroom and the student in the classroom.

This book states the law as at 1 September 2008.

This collection is edited by Keith Hotten, Family Law Barrister and Assistant Professor in the Faculty of Law, University of Hong Kong.
