The Aeroplane
It was getting near the end of term when school would end for the summer holidays. Mark wondered if they would have a holiday this year. Last year they had gone to Scotland. "Are we going away?" Mark asked his mother but she only smiled and said "Wait and see." His cousin Mandy thought she would like to go to the seaside but one day their parents told them they were going to Spain for a holiday. "It's a long way so we shall have to fly," they said. "How lovely!" cried Mark and Mandy clapping their hands. Mandy wondered what it would be like up in the air and Mark showed her how his toy aeroplane swooped round and round. She felt a bit frightened but her Mummy and Daddy would be there so she would be quite safe. They were very excited.
