within each of us lies a garden of the heart
a place where God can plant, water, cultivate and gently nurture a beautiful harvest of character. But it is not just any harvest, it is a harvest of love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness and self-control. Yes, He plants and waters the fruit of the Spirit.
As we allow our hearts and minds to become

God s garden, we shall find that we will be blessed beyond all expectation. Our lives will become filled with His qualities, His attributes. The garden will become like the Gardener. And that is God s greatest desire -- for us to become like Him.
