In the decades following World War II, factories in many countries not only provided secure employment and a range of economic entitlements, but also recognized workers as legitimate stakeholders, enabling them to claim rights to participate in decision making and hold factory leaders accountable. In recent decades, as employment has become more precarious, these attributes of industrial citizenship have been eroded and workers have increasingly been reduced to hired hands. As Joel Andreas shows in Disenfranchised, no country has experienced these changes as dramatically as China. Drawing on a decade of field research, including interviews with both factory workers and managers, Andreas traces the changing political status of workers inside Chinese factories from 1949 to the present, carefully analyzing how much power they have actually had to shape their working conditions.

评论

暂时读了开头结尾，理论建构关于citizenship, autonomy, and democracy
在现有中国社会史研究来说很新颖（毕竟我理论小白）。而中国研究又很久没有生产出
不错的工厂研究了。当然，如果用历史学的眼光来看，材料大概会是一个问题（因为不
是一个深入的case study)。先打四星，还没看主体。
