Since wisdom may be defined as the proper use of knowledge, the two actually are separate but inseparable. To be wise, there are certain things you must know. Spiritually, a knowledge of the word of God is the basis for our knowing him and being acceptable in his sight.

As usual, I am encouraging you to study the Bible, not just about the Bible. Therefore, I continue to quote passages from the scriptures to facilitate our studying them together. Obviously it has been impossible to use every scripture pertaining to each subject; so I encourage you to use your own Bible helps to delve more deeply into the truth. It will surprise you how your own interest will grow as you make a sincere effort to deepen your knowledge and understanding. I have listed daily Bible readings at the end of each chapter. They will encourage your studying these lessons daily in case you are preparing for a weekly class. Meditation in this way, from day to day, will enlighten and enrich your life. And please do study the memory verses daily; make them your own; have them readily available in the wonderful "computer" of your mind. They are good mental companions when you are having to sit and wait, when you can't sleep at night, even in the dentist's chair! To help you in memorizing, write each passage on an index card which you can stand in a convenient place so that your mind may be occupied with study while your hands are busy at routine work. You can memorize. You will be glad you did.

"If then you are risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God," a lovely silver haired octogenarian quoted happily as I met her in the aisle when she visited the local congregation recently following a year s residence in the home of her daughter. After completing her quotation of Colossians 3:1-4, she concluded, Tll never be able to thank
