Here is a furiously paced spy thriller in the tradition of Len Deighton and set in a "Miami Vice" world. A Soviet "defector" has escaped his London handlers and resurfaced somewhere in Miami's underworld, amassing millions of dollars for purposes unknown while eluding and confounding four rival intelligence agencies. His plan: an undetectable needle-jab deep into the supercomputer "brain" of America's Star Wars system. And while the U. S. space-borne surveillance system is momentarily blinded, the Russians plan to launch their own Death Star. One man, David Caine, can stop it. But the Soviet GRU intends to stop Caine first, and for good.

Rollercoaster plotting and authentic, up-to-the-minute spycraft propel this audacious international thriller to its explosive climax.
