Foreword
The timing of a book's release is as important as its subject. This book by John Avanzini comes at exactly the right time. I believe the message of faith and prosperity that is in the Church today has been sent by God because the cost of taking the gospel into all the world is higher in our day than anyone could have ever imagined. No longer are we simply raising a few thousand dollars to purchase some pews and an organ. The Church now faces the necessity of raising millions and millions of dollars to purchase the high-tech communication equipment required for today's mass evangelism. Add to this the fact that the doors of almost every nation on earth are now open to the gospel and you will find that millions of dollars will not be enough. It will take billions. Having bought and paid for nearly 500 television stations¼ Trinity Broadcasting Network understands just how important the message of biblical economics is to the Body of Christ. The saints of God must prosper financially if they are to meet this challenge. Jan and I thank God for the men and women who faithfully teach the biblical message of seed time and harvest. We know it has not been easy for them¼ for they have been opposed by vicious¼ self-appointed critics who have openly slandered them¼ misrepresenting to the Body of Christ what these men and women of God are actually teaching. They have wrongfully accused them of teaching that the Bible
