Acknowledgments It would be humanly impossible to give adequate acknowledgmento all of the many fine people who have contributed to the writing othis book. Primary recognition should be given to Lucille Daniels'¼Œ whosi'¼Œvision and wisdom assisted the author in building a solid foundation ilthe form of a Master's thesis on massage. Josephine A. Dolani'¼Œ Associate Professor'¼Œ School of Nursing'¼Œ University of Connecticut'¼Œ gave valuable advice concerning the use of massage in the field of nursing. The members of the staff of the School of Physical Therapy at thdUniversity of Connecticut who willingly gave their time'¼Œ energy'¼Œ and personal resources deserve credit for their valuable assistance'¼Œ especialli'¼Œ.Vera Kaskai'¼Œ who used this material for two years and made wortbwhili'¼Œsuggestions that made this text clearer to those using it for the first time Words cannot express my appreciation to the people who typeddrew the original sketches'¼Œ and provided excellent editorial service'¼Œ orielworking far into the night to meet the many deadlines involved in th~production of this book'¼Œ namly Gerri Pellecchia'¼Œ Virginia Darrow'¼Œ Nanc~Wahnowsky'¼Œ and Patricia McClellan Miller. My thanks also to Dorothy McLaughlin'¼Œ who was my patient an(loyal companion as we studied acupuncture in Talpei'¼Œ Taiwan'¼Œ and tcDr. Min der Huang'¼Œ our primary professor; to Dr. Edith Pao'¼Œ who mad~it possible for us to study in Taiwan; and to Dr. Joseph Yao'¼Œ DonalcCourtiali'¼Œ and Dorothy McLaughlin
